

I idea that the FCC is even entertaining a decision regarding any legitmate broadcast of uncensored music or information is disturbing. XM Radio provides a legal service just as the internet provides the same information. I suppose the FCC or some other government office should consider allowing Yahoo to broadcast the same traffic/weather. The FCC should decline any requests by any local broadcast stations to limit XM or Sirrus, the right to broadcast legal and legitimate news or information.